

Meadow Mouse

Also called a meadow vole

FUN FACTS

- Long, Short, Small:

Meadow mice have short, stubby tails, small ears that are hidden in their fur, and long, sharp teeth for nibbling!

- Outdoors:

They live outside in fields, meadows, and gardens all year long, digging shallow runways and tunnels in the grass.

- Hungry Critters:

Meadow mice are herbivores. They eat grasses, roots, bark from young trees, and plants.

- Safe from Predators:

Hawks, snakes, and many other animals hunt meadow mice.

DID YOU KNOW?

A meadow mouse can have up to 10 litters each year! Each litter has 4~6 babies. That's a lot of tiny mice!
